More Than Martial Arts

Wuzuquan training is not simply about learning how to fight.

Our aim is to promote traditional Chinese martial arts as a means of physical and mental training, health, self-defense and the preservation of Chinese cultural heritage.

Patience • Humility • Respect

Members are also encouraged to develop the traditional qualities of honesty, diligence, tolerance, courage, wisdom and commitment through their training.

Students come from different backgrounds, ages and levels of experience. What matters most is a willingness to learn, practice consistently and treat instructors and fellow students with respect.

New to Wuzuquan?

You do not need previous martial arts experience to apply.

Beginners are welcome, and our structured syllabus provides a progressive route through the fundamentals of the system before students move towards more advanced training.

If you are unsure whether Wuzuquan is right for you, you are also welcome to contact us about observing a class before joining.

Existing Martial Artists

Practitioners from other martial arts backgrounds are also welcome to enquire.

Previous martial arts experience can be useful, but students joining the school should approach Wuzuquan with an open mind and be prepared to learn the system according to the traditional methods and syllabus taught within our lineage.

Previous grades or experience in another martial art do not automatically confer an equivalent grade within our school.

Existing Wuzuquan Practitioners and Instructors

If you already practise Wuzuquan, Wujiquan or an associated Chee Kim Thong / Han Jin Yuan system, please provide details of your previous training, instructor and lineage when applying.

This helps us understand your background and direct your enquiry to the appropriate senior instructor.

Anyone wishing to teach under the name of the school must meet the separate instructor requirements established within the Club Constitution and hold the appropriate recognised certification and permission.
